

Bristol University Press's Read and Publish Deal offers uncapped OA publishing in 20 journals

Available to libraries and consortia worldwide our Read and Publish agreement offers:

Publish

Uncapped, fee-free Gold Open Access publishing in 19 hybrid journals

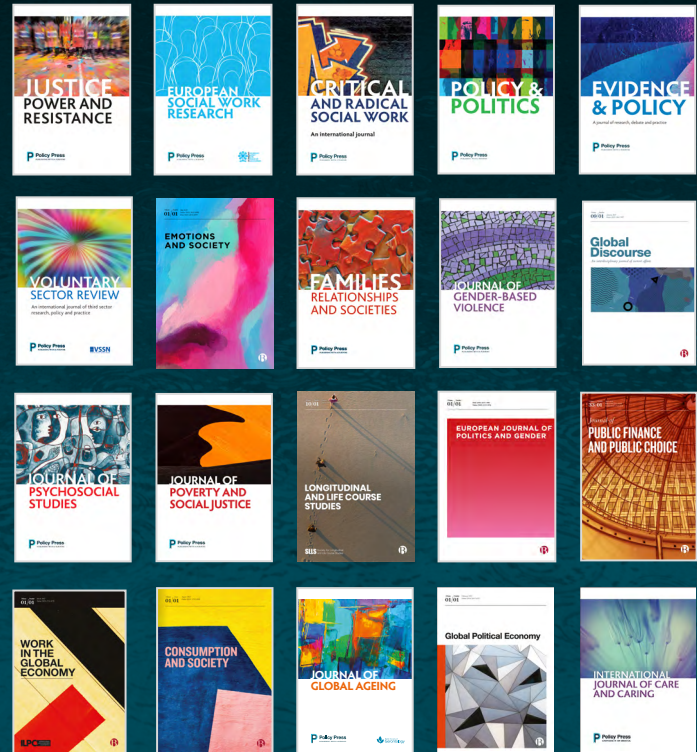

Read

Unlimited access to our full journals collection of 7000 articles aligned to UN SDGs

Originally launched in 2022 in the UK as a JISC pilot, our Read & Publish initiative is now available to all institutions globally. This agreement will provide universities with read access to Bristol University Press and Policy Press's full journals collection and enable unlimited immediate open access publishing of the Version of Record for all corresponding authors at participating institutions.

"Our Read and Publish initiative reflects our ethos and mission as a not-for-profit university press; putting integrity before profit to disseminate work which tackles the global social challenges we currently face."

An affordable and equitable offering from a not for profit University Press

Transparent and sustainable pricing

Our Read and Publish agreement gives a substantial discount on the subscription prices for our hybrid journals, with all the added benefits of uncapped publishing. This is a single fee paid annually.

Compliant with funder mandates

This deal provides your faculty with fee-free OA publishing under a CC-BY license making their work compliant with the strictest of funder mandates.

Streamlined administration

By paying a single fee for subscriptions and OA, you cut out the need to manage multiple budgets and payments.

Easy reporting

We are partnering with OA Switchboard. Their dashboard allows you to monitor the use of the publish element so you can ensure a return on investment.

About Bristol University Press

At Bristol University Press we believe that research should have as wide a reach as possible and be able to make a difference in supporting social change and social justice. Our Read and Publish offer is just one part of our commitment to equitable and sustainable publishing:

- We focus on global social challenges and publish extensively on topics related to Diversity, Equity and Inclusion
- We were the first University Press to sign the UN SDG publisher's compact
- We have partnered with Research4Life to make our books and journals accessible in low- and middle-income countries.
